BANK CONDITIONS COMPARED.

By the operations of the Sub-Treasury in this city for the five business days of the week endng Friday night the associated banks gained $2,711,426. The weekly bank statement published yesterday reflects in part the movement of money in July interest disbursements and shows no striking features in any of its items. The increase in loans was only $182,400. Legal tenders decreased $1,488,000, specie decreased $734,300 and deposits decreased $563,100. The total reserve now stands at $174,642,000, being a decrease of $2,-193,000 from the week before. Receipts of money from the interior were smaller, and the demand for commercial accommodation was light. The result of all the changes in the week was a decrease of $2,652,225 in the surplus reserve, and the banks held in excess of legal requirements $32,173,700, against $34,225,925 last week, and against $72,134,725 in the corresponding week last year, and a deficit of $5,082,025 in 1893.

The following are the changes for the corresponding week of the preceding three years: 1894—Loans increased $13,709,400, cash increased $1,146,500, deposits increased $15,260,500, and surplus reserve decreased $6,333,750; 1892—Loans decreased $1,276,700, cash decreased $3,479,000, deposits increased $3,479,000, deposits decreased $3,877,700, and surplus reserve decreased $2,276,700, cash decreased $3,479,000, deposits decreased $3,877,700, and surplus reserve decreased $2,509,575. THE MONETARY SITUATION. The local money markets have been inactive and outside of a slight flurry caused by July interest disbursements there were no features in the market. Call money representing bankers' balances loaned at 1½ per cent in most cases, although some transactions were made 1 per cent, and at 2@2½ per cent. The minimum for new loans by banks and trust companies is 1½ per cent. Little was doing in rediscounting for Southern correspondents. Commercial paper offerings continue scarce and there is no material change in the demand, and there is an inclination among the hanks to accept nothing below 3 per cent. In in the demand, and there is an inclination among the banks to accept nothing below 3 per cent. In England the Bank of England's minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2 per cent. ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE. ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Prices of stocks were sustained last week, and, despite the efforts of operators for a decline, the whole list, with a few exceptions, including Chicago Gas, closed higher than a week ago. A good part of the trading was purely professional, and the interruption of a holiday helped to restrict business, but there was a fair commission-house demand for stocks and an increase in foreign buying. Chicago Gas was forced down two weeks ago by the bears, when the Standard Oil interests in it sold out their holdings, and this week it declined further on the belief that the dividend will be passed. The directors of the concern have practically announced that there will be no dividend for the remainder of this year on account of the lower prices being received for their product; the lucrease in the cost of manufacture, which is due to an advance in petroleum, and the need of spending all available cash upon the floating debt and construction requirements. The large interests which went into Chicago Gas several months ago expected that the consolidation measure would be passed by the Illinois Legislature, and that it would give the companies a credit sufficient to finance the entire floating debt. The defeat of that mensure caused a change in the sentiment of the new interests in Chicago Gas, and it is possible that the head of the companies and several directors will soon retire. The affairs of the American Sugar Refining Company call for ro especial comment. While a week ago its stock was being manipulated down, it is now being put up again, and it closed the week with a net gain of 5% per cent. The company continues to monopolize attention on the Stock Exchange and to hold back its financial reports of the last two years, and petty dabblers in stocks continue to sink their money in the species of the service of the last two years, and petty dabblers in stocks continue to sink their money in Prices of stocks were sustained last week, and, pany continues to monopolize attention on the Stock Exchange and to hold back its financial reports of the last two years, and petty dabblers in stocks continue to sink their money in its shares. A pleasant contrast to Sugar Refining and Chicago Gas is Distilling and Cattle Feeding, the reorganization of which is being managed in a thoroughly businesslike and successful manner. The Greenhut-Morris party, which wrecked the company, and which has endeavored to block its reorganization, has been completely routed in its efforts to prevent a judicial sale of the property, and the way is now clear for the immediate rehabilitation of the company. Over $2,600 shares of the company's stock were traded in last week, and it closed at a net advance for the week of 24 per cent. The rest of the Industrial list was generally strong, and United States Rubber and American Tobacco both made substantial gains.

The railway list was strong, and the Granger shares, with the exception of Northwestern, closed at advances. Reports of bad weather and poor crops circulated by the wheat speculators were not sufficient to bring about declines, although in some cases they served the speculators' purposes. The outlook for the harvest is one of the most important factors just now, and it appears to be about as favorable as predicted some time ago. The outlook for corn is excellent, and the strength in the Granger shares is due to this. The anthracite coal properties advanced last week on the general bel'ef that the settlement some time ago. The outlook for corn is excellent, and the strength in the Granger shares is due to this. The anthracite coal properties advanced last week on the general belief that the settlement of the coal difficulties would be accomplished at no late date. A meeting of the sales agents will be held on Tuesday, and after that meeting developments of importance may be looked for. The reorganization of the Reading Railroad and a satisfactory anthracite agreement will be incidents which will be closely connected, for it is believed that there can be no anthracite settlement with Reading in its present condition and under its present management. There have been large blocks of Reading stock bought in this market, and current reports have pointed to Jersey Central interests as the purchasers, and the Vanderbilts have also been reported to be in a Reading deal, but this has received emphatic dental. It is understood that some plan is now being considered by Mr. Morgan, and that an announcement in regard to Reading and anthracite coal affair will soon be made. Interest in being considered by Mr. Morgan, and that an announcement in regard to Reading and anthracite coal affair: will soon be made. Interest in railroad reorganizations has been increased by the action of the Savannah and Western bond-holders' committee, in going into the Georgia Central reorganization, which means a speedy readjustment of the Georgia Central system, and by the developments in Northern Pacific affairs. In the last-named company a disagreement has arisen between the Adams committee and Mr. Hill, of the Great Northern, and from all indications it looks as if the Adams plan will be abandoned or else materially modified. The Adams committee has reached the conclusions will be abandoned or else materially modified. The Adams committee has reached the conclusion that the London proposal of guarantee by the Great Northern will clash with the State laws of Minnesota, while Mr. Hill has announced for publication that he is ready to perform his part of the plan, and that it is not impracticable. Mr. Morgan has kept quiet, and the opposition to the plan which provides for Great Northern's getting control of Northern Pacific states that such a plan cannot be carried into effect, and that Mr. Morgan will not support it.

into effect, and that Mr. Morgan will not support it.

Railroad earnings and bank clearings for June show a large increase over the same month last year, and reports from all industrial centres show expansion in all lines of trade. The improved outlook in Iron has had a marked effect upon the shares of Colorado Fuel and Iron, and it scored the largest net gain of any stock last week. The improvement in the Iron industry has made it possible for the company to place a large amount of its first mortgage bonds to pay off its floating debt and to get needed working capital. The advance in wages in the last month has affected, according to "Bradstreet's." 1,00,000 Industrial workers, who have received an advance averaging about 10 per cent. The prices of lumber, print cloths and tinplate have advanced, and the commercial agencies report American tinaveraging about 10 per cent. The prices of lumber, print cloths and tinplate have advanced, and the commercial agencies report American tinplate factories running at the highest pitch to meet the demand. All lines of trade are making progress toward prosperity. Slight increases in customs receipts reported from Washington will call for heavier remittances from this country to Europe, and this, with the strength of the foreign exchange market, has caused considerable talk and speculation concerning the probability of gold shipments. Rates at which business was actually done in the foreign exchange market reached the highest point of the year at the close of the week, but bankers well posted on the situation believe that no gold will be exported at present. The demand for exchange has been promptly met by the syndicate, which has the situation well under control, and there are indications that the demand for remittance to settle our obligations abroad will be offset by sales of American securities in Europe.

The following table shows the movements of the principal stocks for the week:

The market for railway bonds was dull, but prices were well held. Savannah and Western 1st receipts were active and advanced 3 per cent. Southern Railway 5s were largely dealt in and the announcement that the company had placed another large block of the bonds abroad helped them to advance in price. Trouble in the reorganization plan of the Northern Pacific depressed Northern Pacific issues. Active issues besides those already mentioned were Chesapeake and Ohio, Kansas Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Mobile and Ohio, Reading, Rio Grande Western, Texas Pacific, and Wabash.
